Stadium proposal by year-end sought | UTSanDiego.com

<http://www.utsandiego.com/news/2014/may/01/chargers-stadium-fabiani-proposal/>

Thursday, May 01, 2014 07:19 PM

The San Diego Chargers are hoping to complete a proposal by year's end that would use public land at the sports arena, Qualcomm Stadium and downtown to generate revenue for a long-sought new venue without additional taxpayer dollars. Under the plan, the team would spend millions of dollars campaigning for a November 2016 ballot measure that could pass with a simple majority vote because it's not a tax increase requiring two-thirds voter approval.

An agreement to pave the way for $2 million renovation of a baseball field in Point Loma got unanimous approval from the San Diego City Council Tuesday. The Council voted to turn the field at Dana Middle School over to the San Diego Unified School District, from the city's Park and Recreation Department. The city of San Diego has a joint-use agreement with San Diego Unified for 7.3 acres on the Dana campus, encompassing two baseball fields and paved playground areas. The San Diego Unified Sch...

State Senate Unveils Cap-and-Trade Funding Plan

<http://www.cahsrblog.com/2014/06/state-senate-unveils-cap-and-trade-funding-plan/>

Tuesday, June 10, 2014 12:40 AM

Last week the California State Senate joined Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti to announce their proposal to use the more than $1 billion in annual cap-and-trade revenues. It's a great plan that would finally deliver serious, stable revenues to transit and high speed rail in California. Here's the detailed plan : • 25% for transit operations • 20% for affordable housing centered in ...

Oakland A's owner Lew Wolff on Wednesday said his Major League Baseball team is "close" to a 10-year lease renewal on its current East Bay stadium digs, leaving San Jose's hopes for a downtown ballpark murkier than ever. Wolff's new proclamation in a Bloomberg interview that an Oakland stadium deal could be reached in "the next couple of weeks" follows a drawn-out negotiation process. Sports venues from the San Francisco Giants' AT&T Park to the San Jo...

Group won't seek referendum on Sacramento Kings arena deal - City Beat - The Sacramento Bee

<http://www.sacbee.com/2014/06/01/6448901/group-wont-seek-referendum-on.html>

Sunday, June 01, 2014 03:36 PM

A citizens group that has sought a public vote on Sacramento's arena plans for two years announced Sunday that it has abandoned its latest campaign to force a referendum vote on the City Council's approval of an arena financing deal. Sacramento Taxpayers Opposed to Pork (STOP) determined that the City Council's approval of the financing plan is not subject to voter referendum because of the form of joint-powers authority the city created to issue the revenue bonds...

With City Council approval behind them, the Sacramento Kings on Wednesday launched what they say will be a fast-track effort to build a modern arena in the heart of downtown Sacramento. But, as has been the pattern in Sacramento's long-running and convoluted arena drama, the team and city may yet have a hurdle to jump. A small group of deal opponents says it is organizing what appears to be a late-hour effort to stop the project.

Ernest Dronenburg is a Terrible Choice for County Assessor/Clerk/Recorder

<http://obrag.org/?p=84011>

May 31, 2014 01:29 PM

Functionaries like County Clerk Ernest Dronenburg are important assets for the big money types that typically dominate local governments. Their behind the scenes efforts mean that policies get interpreted and enforced (or not) in a manner ensuring that "business as usual" remains Business As Usual. That's the reason why Dronenburg was among the earliest (along with Bonnie Dumanis) to get an editorial blessing fro...
